

Getting to Work in Kane County

Join Us!

Concerned about transit to area jobs? Come join us to get up to speed on recent activity in Kane County to improve work-related transportation. Our meeting will cover:

- New dial-a-ride services that go into effect in July;
- New federal funding opportunities for transportation serving the transit dependent, including low-wage workers, seniors and individuals with disabilities;
- How Kane County will benefit from the transit funding and accountability debate taking place in Springfield

Most importantly, we need to hear from you. What are your concerns about serving workers and employers through existing transit in Kane County and the region?

To RSVP, please contact Valerie Chepp at 312-332-2151 or by email at vchepp@ctbaonline.org

Getting to Work in Illinois is a project of the Center for Tax and Budget Accountability generously funded by the Grand Victoria Foundation. This project seeks to engage stakeholders in four areas of Illinois (the counties of Kane, Lake, Winnebago/Boone and DeKalb) to identify strategies to improve access to area job centers for low-wage workers. (Effective January 1, 2007, Center for Tax and Budget Accountability and Work, Welfare and Families merged.)
